Edinburgh Award (History for Schools)

This award is given to Honours students in the School of History, Classics and Archaeology, whom the University has recognised for contributing to historical teaching in local schools. These students have completed this by volunteering in classrooms and by mentoring pupils to raise academic attainment.

In successfully completing the Edinburgh Award, these students will have been helped to:

- increase awareness of their strengths
- make the most of their strengths, identify areas for development, and work on a plan to develop these skills
- confidently demonstrate what they have to offer to others
- achieve a positive and lasting impact
- look not only at their mentoring role, but also to capitalise on their experiences elsewhere to enhance their role as a mentor, and vice versa.
